

Ford Transit and Custom – Double Seat Cover (part number TCD)

This is the cover for the front double passenger seat. In the box are five separate pieces; one double back, two singles bases and two headrests.

The two seat base covers are NOT identical; there is a left one and a right one. Picture 1 shows the Left hand seat base cover (i.e. the seat next to the window). Alongside the seat belt attachment you will see there is a small cut out.

Fit the two seat base covers and extend the straps across the underside of each seat and join them together. Then take the centre strap and wrap it around the cross straps and join it back to itself. Picture 2 shows this very clearly.

Now fit the seat back. Open the Velcro style seam on the front of the cover, remove the headrests and slide the cover over the seat back. The T&C logo should be behind the left shoulder of the left passenger (i.e. the one next to the door). See Picture 3

Make sure the seat belt post is not covered and carefully work the cover around the plastic rings on the head rest holes. See Picture 4

Make up the vertical Velcro style seam on the front face of the cover and fold the two seats bases back down. Picture 6

Now fit the head rest covers. The front face of the cover has Velcro on the inside and the back face of the cover has Velcro on the outside. Join the Velcro strips together and re-fit the headrests. Picture 7

Congratulations! You have now fitted the double passenger seat cover.
